PUTNEY HOSPITAL.

THE REPORT of the Board of Management for 1944.

AN event which, but for the coolness and devotion to duty of the staff, might have proved very prejudicial to the smooth working of the hospital happened on the 14th August when the Nurses' Home was struck by a flying bomb.

Mercifully no-one was injured although 70 nurses and domestics were sleeping in the building at the time, a result largely due to the precaution which had been taken to concentrate the staff in the ground and 1st floor rooms.

For the remainder of the year a great amount of work was thrown upon the hospital officials in dealing with demolition work and first aid repairs, as many as 80 men at one time being engaged upon these two operations, whilst arrangements had to be made to rehouse nearly half the staff.

The ultimate result was that the whole of the 2nd floor of the new wing and part of the 2nd floor of the old wing had to be demolished, and a temporary roof placed over the 1st floor, entailing a loss of 23 bedrooms.

Immediately on hearing of the damage, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin offered the loan of their house, No. 5 Lower Common South, free of any charge, and this very generous gesture has provided accommodation for the whole of the night staff and is gratefully acknowledged.

To meet the remainder of the deficiency, permission was ultimately obtained after long and difficult negotiations, for the erection at the expense of the hospital, of a Ministry of Works hut to contain 16 cubicles; this has been placed across the garden with an entrance into the Nurses' Home, and it is hoped will be in occupation by the time this report is issued.

In other respects the work of the hospital has differed little from previous war years; during June, in view of possible increased casualties from enemy action, the Ministry of Health gave instructions for 50 beds to be kept permanently empty, which meant that Service cases had to be accommodated in beds previously used for civilians, and this, together with the fact that for some months there was small demand for the private wards, due to people leaving London, has considerably reduced the number of patients admitted during the year.

The Board has been strengthened by the addition of Mr. F. T. Mann and Mr. D. Overall, both of whom have shown a keen interest in the work. And here it may be appropriate to mention that the wardens of the district under Mr. Overall's leadership have collected a sum of £1,660, which they have presented to the hospital in memory of their comrades who were killed while on duty; notice of their intention was given before the end of the year, but the figure will appear in the 1945 accounts. The Board would like to take this opportunity of thanking all the subscribers to the memorial for a most generous and surprising gift.

Dr. T. E. Roberts, one of the anæsthetists for many years, passed away in June to the regret of his many friends.

The installation of the short wave set mentioned in last year's report has necessitated the engagement of an additional masseuse, and the promotion of Mr. Freebody to the staff at Botley's Park, on which the Board offer him their congratulations, means that he is unable to devote so much of his time to Putney and it has been necessary to appoint an R.S.O. with some previous experience to be available in his absence.

During the year the British Hospitals Association has worked strenuously to persuade the Ministry of Health to recast the proposed structure of the hospital administration in the National Health Services which, in the original scheme gave the voluntary hospitals practically no effective representation. The thanks of all those who believe in the voluntary principle are due to the Chairman, Secretary and Committee who have so vigorously fought for its maintenance.

The accounts show little variation on the expenditure side from those for 1943 and although there is an inevitable increase in the prices of most commodities and a substantial rise in salaries due to the implementation of the Rushcliffe recommendations, the decreased number of patients has reduced the cost of provisions, drugs, etc., and the X-Ray Department has required no item for new plant, for which an allocation of £1,000 was necessary last year. It will be noticed under " Establishment " that £1,500 has been placed to reserve for deferred repairs, a very necessary provision against future liabilities.

On the income side, the fall of £1,650 in the receipts for services rendered to patients is practically balanced by the increase of a similar sum mentioned in the accounts as received from the Government Emergency Service, viz. : £6,300 in 1943 and £7,900 in 1944 ; owing to the fact that in 1943 an adjustment extending over several years was made in the Government contribution, comparisons cannot suitably be made.

As usual, there are many voluntary workers to whom the thanks of the hospital and the patients are due. Several members of the B.R.C.S. have almost become permanent members of the staff by their regular and most efficient services. The Barnes and Mortlake Hospitals Supply Association have made up large quantities of towels and other surgical articles from material supplied by the hospital. The Linen League has made a handsome donation in kind, and the W.V.S. has not only provided various stores but its Voluntary Car Pool has supplied transport for hundreds of journeys when patients are unable to use ordinary transport facilities.

Miss Ely has worked very hard with the library, whilst the wireless, upon the upkeep of which Mr. Perry has given many hours of his time, is a constant joy. Mr. Parkinson Smith has rendered very great assistance to the kitchen by his constant deliveries of vegetables which he has raised on the allotments. Various other friends have given help in many ways and to all of these the Board are most grateful for their generous support.

Finally, the Board tender their thanks :

To the Hon. staff, and the doctors who have given their time in lecturing to the nurses.

To Mr. Freebody and his assistants, for their most efficient care and attention to the patients.

To the Matron, whose organisation of the nursing and domestic staffs, her skill as a caterer and her persuasive powers, have been our prop and stay throughout the year.

To the Assistant Matron and the nursing staff, who have worked splendidly under very trying conditions, especially in the emergencies.

To the Massage and X-Ray staff and the Pharmacist, in whose departments the work continues to grow.

To the Domestics and to all those in the kitchen who have carried out their duties in a most exemplary manner.

To the Secretary, the Almoner, and their assistants who have loyally supported them. The labour of dealing with P.A.Y.E. is only another of the new tasks which have been added to an already busy department, whilst various Ministries continue to issue endless instructions and forms.

Lastly, to the porters and the gardener, their sympathy being offered to the latter for the destruction of his promising young fruit trees.

Almoner's Report, 1944.

Enemy activity had a marked influence on the work of the Almoner's Department in 1944. The advent of the fly-bombs forced the wards, under Government instruction, to make more beds available for casualties; this meant a marked decrease in the number of in-patients, both before and in the early days of the fly-bombs. Their actual arrival lessened the out-patient attendances, as many people left the district. The lull in civilian activity made possible the extra amount of work connected with the reception and record keeping of the air raid casualties. We are immensely indebted to the Bundles for Britain, who placed at our disposal the very generous sum of £58 11s. 11d. for the aid of the air raid casualties. The number of service patients received has been higher than usual this year, as has the work connected with them. Form filling for these patients has reached alarming proportions, and combined with the shortage of staff, has necessitated only the most urgent social work being undertaken in the office.

The Samaritan Fund received an extra grant of ten pounds, given to clear up some outstanding bad debts of preceding years. The Fund has been useful in helping to pay for surgical appliances, the cost of which have greatly increased; seventy-four being supplied this year. The Surgical Aid Letters were also very welcome. Only sixteen patients were convalesced. Here the difficulty is finding accommodation, and also the increased charges of many of the homes, make this a very difficult problem.

Voluntary aid has been generously given from many sources. I should like to thank especially the V.C.P. Their regular and prompt service enables patients to return home and re-attend as out-patients for treatment, which makes more beds available; a really desperate need these days. The interest the drivers take in the individual patients is a helpful factor in their recovery, and I know I cannot thank the drivers too warmly on behalf of the patients. Altogether three hundred and forty-nine patients were transported, many of these being brought to hospital over a period of weeks. The W.V.S. gifts of milk and chocolate powder for all patients, and of clothes for the air raid casualties were deeply appreciated.

A new departure has been the opening of an appointment system for both surgical and orthopædic out-patients. This has considerably lessened the time spent waiting about in the hospital by patients, and is much appreciated by them. I should like to thank again our many helpers, not forgetting the helpful co-operation given by the A.R.P. services and the Police.

PUTNEY HOSPITAL.

The Secretary begs to call attention to the advantage which would accrue to the Hospital if Subscribers would avail themselves of the concession granted by the Inland Revenue Department whereby the Hospital is able to recover income tax, which has been paid at full rate, in respect of subscriptions which are covenanted to be paid for seven years (or until the death of the subscriber if this should occur within that period).

The Secretary will be pleased to forward the necessary Form of Agreement for signature.

This, however, must be completed BEFORE THE SUBSCRIPTION IS PAID, as otherwise the advantage obtained is deferred for a year.
